

Ma'lore Ma'lay

sunbright air, the morning glare across the years
across the stars

blind last night, blind moonlight straight in the eyes turn your disguise

ma'lore ma'lay, another day i hear your call, in spite of it all—ma'lore ma'lay, you are my name i stand so tall, in spite of it all—

no more towers, no more hours just enough time just enough rhyme

distance no matter, no more chatter come to my heart
come to my mind

ma'lore ma'lay, find my way it's me that's you, that is true — ma'lore ma'lay, flowers in may it's me that new, that's the view—what was said, what was wed i can't 'member i can't recall

return to your dream, go you home all is gone
this new dawn

ma'lore ma'lay, back to the fray
i hear your call, in spite of it all—ma'lore ma'lay, come and stay
i stand so tall, in spite of it all—
